MRS. SPRAGUE'S CHARGES.

Dispatch to the Chicago Tribune.]
PROVIDENCE, R. L., Doc. 28,—"You can rest assured of one thing," said an old residuat and prominent citizen of Providence to the Tribune representative this afternoon, "and that is that the Spragne divorce cause will never come to trial, and that the weakening will be all on the governor's side. He cannot successfully defend that suit nor disprove the charges made by hig wife in her bill. The general public does not know why that bill came to be filed, but the facts ard those: For over a year, in fact over since she left Casonchel, Mrs. Sprague has been trying to get possession of some warring-apparel and other personal property belonging to her without success. When GEDINARY MANS PAILED Her attonieve secured a writt of replevin, but found themselves sheared a writt of replevin, but found themselves sheared a writt of replevin, but found themselves sheared a written country, in which of Amendeat is stituated, as an atheront of Gov. Spraguo, as, indeed, are all of the people in that focality, and he absolutely declined to serve, the writ, although offered ample, protection against any litigation, that might chose, and was offered a deputy who would sorre the writ in spite of the abeigun policy adopted by Sprague in guarding, his grounds. The fact of it is, there is no law in-Rhode Biland to make the sheriff do his duty.

THE SUIT FOR DIVOUCE WAS BEGUN And Gov. Sprague cannot defend it except by proving his vide's adultory. His relations with Eliza Viall, one of the women to whom Mrs. Sprague feeters in Ber bill, form an interesting chapter in his life. The story commonens back twenty years ago, and at that time the relations of the two wore no secret. Miss Viall was the daughter of a well-known cutton broker love, a man of means and influence, and he fujly expected that the pair would be united in marriage, reforring to the matter in conversation with friends, speaking of Sprague as Myboy. At the time of the unveiling of the Perry Monment in Cleveland, in 1861, Gov. Sprague was present, and at the Weddell house first Kats. Chase, with whom

THE AT ONCE THE IN LOVE.

From that time his affections for Mary Viall decreased rapidly up to the time of his marriage, but that his relations were afterwards resumed there is not these lightest doubt. Her sixter was married to the Rev. Mr. Harris, poster of the Central Conjergeational Clurch of this city, but Mary nover seemed to go right. About two years ago sile and Gov. Sprague had a rather carling time at Nantasket, a scaport near Boaton, which calminated in the woman's child, supposed to be by Sprague, being placed in a barrel outside the hotel at which she was stopping. This particular style of guest did not suit the proprietor of the home, and he bounced both parties. Before this, however, but after

Miss Viall had been married to a Norwegiam sea captain named Andorson, who left for parts unknown soom after his nupdale. Mr. Viall was interested with Spraguo in soveral of the latter's husiness enterprises, and lost all his property in the crash that ruined the Spraguos. He died 'about two years ago. Eliza Viall is now an imma of an insane asylum in this city, although those who should know claim that she is perfectly sanch but willing to be provided for in the way sho, is. What has become of the child abbody seems to know. Diregard to the other women with whom Sprague is charged with having been unduly intimate, not so much is known, July of the Mr. McChe. THE CHILD WAS BORN.

The statement having been made that electrie light was dangerous and liable to cause dres, h committe of gentlemen at Cleveland made a thorough test, and are fully satisfied that such is not the ease. They find the only liability there is of danger is when the wires should chance to break and the ends meet; but this is not likely to occur, and in any event there is not so such an anger from clevile light as there is not be feared from the use of gas.

The lase Mrs. Grote, wife of the historian was a high-spirited, hoydenish sort of girl ode without a saddle and sailed a beat. Syd ney Smith once said of them: "I do like them both so much, for he is so lady-like and she is a perfect gentleman."
